

An example of a short story written by a child working towards the expected standard in writing.

There was once a brave soldier who helped anyone and everyone in need. His name was Traction Man!

Traction Man had a morning swim. It was only a quick one. Suddenly Traction Man heard someone screaming Help! Help! He flew upstairs to see what was going ~~on~~ on.

He youst all his strength to cick open the door. He finley got in side thair. He saw the Spng getting hert a lot.

The Spungy was riley sad and angrey becoz Traction M saw that the evil tap was turning all over the Spungy.

So Traction Man turd on the Shower on to cold and Sprayed it at the evil tap. I ~~was~~ and Sagrad the day. I wonder what ^{you} we wood do to morow?